THE INTELLIGENCER. WHEELING, OCTOBER 17, 1899.

A Year of Prosperity.

The New York World stops its abuse of President McKinley for not inter-ceding between England and the Transvaal, to burden himself with further responsibilities, and in its work of booming Admiral Dewey for the Dem-ocratic candidacy for President, against the President who conferred upon him the high honor he enjoys, and denounce ing his Fflipino policy, long enough to give the present administration credit for a splendid record of having rescued the country from hard times, ating a condition of unparalleled pros-

Under the heading of the "Fatness of Land," the World, which has had in the past much to say about the "tariff wall shutting out from the markets of the world," says: "The country is richer than it was a year ago, and that the people are living better appears in the fact that during the mouth of September the imports of foreign merchandise were $22,000,000 worth greater than during the September a year ago. And at the same time our own manufacturers sold more goods than ever to Americans."

Going back further, says the free trade World, the imports for the first nine months this year exceeded those of a corresponding period last year by more than a hundred millions of dollars. That is to say, the American peo ple are having a better time than they were a year ago, with more good things to eat and wear and otherwise enjoy, and with more money jingling in their pockets.

Then the World proceeds to show our great place in the markets of the world, the millions in our favor-the thing when it was supporting Cleveland it said never could happen. The World frankly says: "And when we ask where the extra wealth comes from, the just published government report, which the foregoing figures are drawn promptly answers." It then proceeds to show that during September we EXPORTED more American merchan-dise than we did last September by $20,-000,000 worth, while for the first nine months of this year our merchandise EXPORTS EXCEEDED EVEN OUR VASTLY INCREASED IMPORTS BY NO LESS THAN $317,292,402. That is to say, says the World, since January last we have sold more goods abroad than we have bought there by more "Figures are often than $317,292,402. admits the World, "but these are fulcy in their significance of widespread and increasing prosperity."

Now, the question arises, if, under the fiscal policy of the Republican administration, these things have come to pass, in marked contrast to the conditions under the Democratic why is it that the World wants to substitute a Democratic administration With the Chicago platform, which will call for free silver, the Democratic tariff theory which proved a failure, death to corporations, and a hundred other foolish things that give it the appearance of a crasy quilt, with the Second Abraham Lincoln, as Nebroskup described himself recently,

Unpopularity of Treason.

The people of England are just now furnishing a striking object lesson in the matter of loyalty, which the Democracy of the United States would do well to consider. Englishmen have no patience with their public men who are criticising the policies of their governent in war times. The recent riot in London, at which the pre-Boer speakers were hooted, and made the target of decayed eggs, testified to this fact, even before there was opportunity Since then a speaker at Cornwall gave similar testimony in the case of a legislator who took the stump against the government. The victim was Leonard H. Courtney, a member of parliament for that division who lamented the fallure of the principles adopted at The Hague, criticised the government's course, and refused to condemn the course of the Boers. An amendment was adopted by a large majority, expressing regret that Mr. Courtney should be at variance with the government, and proclaiming confidence in Salisbury. The audience then sang "Rule Britannia.

The temper of the British people is aroused at present, says the Washington Star, and it would be folly for any party to become identified with obstruction. Englishmen are not weathercocks, shifting with every wind. Their record in Egypt and India "does not indicate that they would take their hands from the plow once the furrow is started." A party, and it is true of Amer ica as it is of England, that would un dertake to fight a campaign on anti-war issue would be smothered in

There is much the same spirit in this country, so much that it is remarksble that to-day and political leaders should have the temerity to attempt to make political capital out of the Philippine campaign. The fate of Democracy following the civil war ought to be sufficient warning to all demagogues who now seek to estabmselves in office on a platform of withdrawal from the archipelago in the face of the enemy.

It is with regret that it is noted that there will be many Courtneys in the present campaign proceeding in a num ber of states. The Star notes that already one has appeared in Kansas, A man named Simpson-Jerry Simpson, of recent memory. Simpson has revived, and howled from the platform when he sneered at the flag and its status in Luson. The people of Kansas did not stop to vote amendments to empty compliments, but expressed their contempt for the expressed treason, vigorously and effectively.
Our Washington contemporary flects the patriotic good sense of the vast majority of Americans when it says that these episodes on both sides of the Atlantic ocean may well be taken to heart by Mr. Atkinson? Senator Mason, Colonel Bryan and the other leaders and statesmen of both parties who seek to establish a new oult of anti-Americanism under one name or another.

Like the British, the American peo ple will sing "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," and the "Star Spangled Banner," which ever shall wave over the land of the free and the home of the Truth and Nonsense About Reed.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Evening Transcript reports Hon. Thomas B. Reed as talking freely to his friends at the capital about his reasons for quitting public life. The New York Sun quotes and comments to use its own expression:

"It was made quite clear by Mr. Reed's conversation that his retirement was not due primarily to any professional opportunity which offered itself. Such opportunities have been open to him for many years."

True as the Declaration of Indecedered was the Sun Mr. Bead

pendence, says the Sun. Mr. Reed has remained in public life at the sacrifice of professional opportunities, such as are always open to any lawyer of his calibre. That is generally the case with the ambitious statesman; yet the choice of career is not generally devoid of consideration of self-interest. The correspondent writes:

The correspondent writes:

"He was not a victim of political disappointment. He long foresaw the impossibility of his nomination in 1896, but it became apparent to him in the Spanish-American war that he could not continue to occupy the conspicuous position in the Republican party and maintain his self-respect."

The Sun is of the opinion that it is

The Sun is of the opinion that it is unlikely that Mr. Reed, either in pri-vate conversation or primarily for publication, ever said to anybody: "I am not a victim of political disappoint, ment." His sense of humor would not "permit so serio-comic an announcement to pass his teeth; and, in the second place, the statement would not be true." No man who desires the presidential nomination of his party and sees it go elsewhere, no leader who discovers that his views and opinions on main questions of party policy are being rejected enthusiastically, and almost unanimously; no man who finds his own constituents at variance with him on the greatest questions of the day can be said truthfully to be free from political disappointment. Of course. Mr. Reed has had political disappointment, just as Mr. Blaine experienced them before him; and he probably would confess his disappointment instead of denying it, as this report rep-questioned its propriety, or regarded it as anything but creditable to the ex-

This the Sun sets down among the improbable reports of Mr. Reed's ut-terances. "Having delicately withdrawn to private life, in order that his dissenting views might not be an embarrassment to the Republican party, is it likely that he would emerge so from privacy to reiterate so ostenta tiously his opposition to the adminis-tration and his criticism of its policy?"

American League Resorts to Willful Misrepresentation - Adopts Plater form at Variance With the Facts. Washington dispatch in St. Louis

Globe-Democrat: The anti-expansionists have been very reckless in the arguments they have brought forward against the Philippine policy of the administration, but such recklessness of statements as that contained platform of the so-called American League adopted at New York yesterday can only be accounted for on the ground of willful misrepresentation or imbecility. In this platform, which was signed by Carl Schurz, Bourke Cockran, C. H. Parkhurst, Samuel Gompers and other noted contractionists, one of the arguments used against the Pres arguments used against the President's course in the Philippines was that it was breeding distrust toward the United States in the republics of Bouth America. In this connection this statement was made:

"The Bureau of American Republics in Washington, maintained mainly by the United States, has been at work nearly fourteen years to bring about a friendly alliance between those states and the United States. When the Spanish war broke out the work was nearing completion. The work of the bureau established by Blaine has been crippled by this distrust, and where a little more than a year ago there was confidence in us, there is now only suspicion."

confidence in us, there is now only suspicion."

That such men as Schurz, Parkhurst and Cockran should put their names to such an absolute falsehood seems incredible. As a matter of fact, the relations existing between the United States and the South American republics were never so friendly as at the present time, and the influence of the bureau of American republics was never so widespread, During the war with Spain three of the South American countries came into the "International Union of American Republics." This is the union founded upon recommendation of the Pan-American conference of 1838-90, and of which the Bureau of American Republics is the official original their discounties and the third new accession, had sone out at the end of two years.

The International Union of American Republics was formed for the prompt conduction and distribution of commergan, had never been in the union before and the third new accession, had gone out at the end of two years.

The International Union of American Republics was formed for the prompt collection and distribution of commercial information, and has nothing whatever to do with the quality of any of the countries which are embraced in its membership. The Bureau of American Republics, the organ, so to speak, of the independent governments of the New World, was placed under the supervision of the secretary of state of the United States, and was to continue in existence for a period of ten years, and if found profitable to the nations participating in its advantages, it was to be maintained for successive perioda of ten years indefinitely. It was further provided in the agreement under which the bureau was established that any country desiring to withdraw from the union at the end of the first ten years should give notice of such intended withdrawal a year in advance of the ten years expiration. The time for the announcement for withdrawals expired in July, and as not a single South American country has given notice of intention to withdraw, the union is certain to be continued for another ten years with full membership.

If Messrs, Schurz, Cockran, Parkhurst et al., knew anything about South American politics and conditions they would not have been led into the perpetration of such a grotesque blunder as that which they have committed. The administration in Washington. There is more commercial information being furnished by the South American republics of South American republics of South American republics to-day and more commercial information being furnished by the South American republics to-day and more commercial information being furnished by the South American republics of South American republics to-day and more commercial information being furnished by the South American republics to-day and more commercial information being furnished by the South American republics to-day and more commercial information being resents him as doing.

The correspondent further says: "He realized that he was in the minority; that as a party leader he would necessarily have to become an element of discord or return summarily to private life, apd he chose the latter course."

A course entirely consistent with self-respect and dignity, pursues the Sun. Reed's position was regretted on many accounts, but nobody whose opinion is valuable has ever, so far as we know, questioned the self-respect and support the self-respect to the states and their attention called to the state-ments about the decidences of the burneau's influence, they pronounced these statements to be false in fact and almost too silly for notice. As one of them put it, the only comment of which the statements were worthy was to para-phrase Rabelias and say that "the anti-imperialists had again been blowing against the wind."

THE KING FOR BRYAN.

Boss Croker, the Ex-Prize-Fighter

Promises Him New York Support. Cleveland Leader: The millionaire boss of the Democratic party, Croker, boss of the Democratic party, Croker, the ex-prise fighter and former ward rufflan, has promised Bryan the sup-port of New York at the national con-vention, which meets next year. The Democratic committee of the state of New York, at Croker's command, has declared that Bryan "is the natural approved leader of the Democratic party of the nation."

Croker, the ex-murderer and the master of the Democratic party, was present when his orders were carried, and said:

"I heartly approve of this resolution and every word it contains. If Mr Bryan is nominated for the presidency I shall certainly support him and do all I can to secure his election. I believe that the rank and file of the Democratic party of this state and nation demand his nomination."

If Mrfl Bryan is alive when the Demo

in nomination."

If Mrf. Bryan is alive when the Democratic national convention meets next summer he will be nominated for president. His nomination is assured and he will be chosen by acclamation. Croker will dominate Bryan and the Democratic campaign. If Bryan should be elected Croker would be the president. For a period of four years scalawags of all descriptions would hold a carnival in Washington.

In the city of New York where the intolerable Croker has ruled, thleves, blackmallers, pickpockets, confidence men, green goods dealers, abortionists, sireet walkers and dive keepers have paid tribute to Crokerism and have been protected in their crimes. They were all assessed stated sums and if they didn't pay their assessments promptly they were not permitted to do business.

Croker is a millionaire and the news-promptly they were not permitted to do business. Croker is a millionaire and the newspapers of New York have been asking for years where he got his millions. Without exception he is the most brazen and brutal boss that his ever operated in the United States. But notwithstanding his history the Democratis bow down before him, for they well know that they cannot elect a president without the leadership and the support of Tammany hall.

This foul creature is the recognized and accepted boss of the Democratic party in the nation. One of his admirers and followers is running for
